An Old and Respected Citizen Passes over The River.

MANY FRIENDS ATTEND THE FUNERAL.

Last Saturday afternoon the subject of this writing paid the debt due from all the living.

"Uncle Perry" as he was familiarly called, was one of the kindest and one of the best citizens of Adair county—known to everybody, as he had been a weekly visitor to Columbia since early boyhood. To our knowledge he never had trouble with any man—a peacemaker by nature, he met you with a smile, and in parting gave your hand a warm clasp. He was born near where he died March 28, 1815, making him 91 years, four months and four days old. He was a son of William Hancock, who served under Washington in the Revolutionary war.

Sixty-five years ago "Uncle" Perry confessed his Savior, joined the Christian church, and lived a consistent member until his death. He was three times married. His last wife was Miss Elizabeth Cravens, who survives him together with four children.

The funeral services were conducted Sunday afternoon by Eld. Z. T. Williams, many relatives and friends being present.

To the widow and other surviving members of the family, we desire to extend our deepest sympathy.

Complaints reach this office, made by residents of Columbia, of the filthy condition of the back alleys and other places in town. The odor arising from the filth is calculated to bring disease unless something is done to put Columbia in a better sanitary condition. The health officer has notified the town authorities through the county papers of this lamentable state of affairs, yet no steps have been taken, so far as we know, to heed his notices. He has also, as we have been informed, given notices to property owners to cleanse their premises and scatter disinfectants. Do not wait until disease strikes the town, then begin the work of cleaning up, but do it now in order that the community may retain its good, healthy condition. Columbia pays about $2,000 taxes and some of that money should be expended in keeping the town free from filth.

LOGS WANTED.

We are now located where Hurt Bros. did business and are ready to buy logs on our yard. Will pay the highest cash price. Standard Hardwood Lumber Co. W. D. Frazier and Walker Bryant, Managers.
39-tf Columbia, Ky.

Dr. R. H. Perryman, of the eastern portion of the county, spent a few days of last week with his Columbia friends. He reported that crops were good on Green River and that the farmers were jubilant. He also stated that there was some sickness in his locality, but there were no cases of a serious nature. The doctor is one of the oldest practitioners in Adair County, having entered the profession 43 years ago.

Mr. Jo Ellison, who lives on Disappointment is in a critical and most pitiful condition. He has a cancer in his mouth, and it is said by those who have visited him that his suffering is constant and not a remedy used alleviates the pain. It is further said that in order to give his family as little trouble as possible that he spends much of his time alone, in the woods. A cancer is a terrible affliction, and we never see a person who has become a victim to the disease, but who has our sympathy.

GOOD OUT OF NAZARETH.

It is not often that Jewels come from Belle county, but in conductor M. O. Winfrey, Owen county seems to have found a jewel. Belle county is one of the most intensely Republican counties in the State. Yet what few Democrats live in that mountain fastness are died in the wool." Mr. Winfrey who is conducting the Owen County Teacher's Institute is from Belle county. He is one of the best educators in the State and would make a splendid Superintendent of schools. Bob Ford, who lives in Middlesboro, says that Mr. Winfrey is all right, and that is a certificate of character in this part of the world. Professor Winfrey has rendered valiant services to the school interests of Kentucky. For several years past he has been the most active educational worker in the State, and is the first real leader the teachers of this State have produced since the death of Ed Porter Thompson. We predict the election of Mr. Winfrey at the November election, and the people of Kentucky and the Democratic party will do a good days work when they put him at the head of their educational institutions.—Owen County Democrat.

APPROACHING UNION.

Mr. R. Mont Fesee to Wed Miss Ella M. Flowers, Both of Columbia.

NO CARDS—A QUIET HOME AFFAIR.

This Wednesday evening at 6:30 o'clock, at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. J. D. Flowers, who lives on Greensburg street, Mr. R. Mont Fesee, a deserving and an industrious young man, who is an attaché of this office, will be married to Miss Ella M. Flowers, one of Columbia's best and popular young ladies. This union will be the culmination of one and a half years courtship, and will not come as a surprise to the intimate friends of the contracting parties.

The ceremony will be impressively pronounced by Rev. W. H. C. Sandidge, pastor of the bride.

In advance of the happy event, the many friends of the couple desire, through the News, to extend their best wishes, trusting that their days may be long upon the earth, and as they go hand in hand down life's pathway may no obstacles appear to mar the happiness that plighted hearts enjoy.

SANDERS—MOSS.

The home of Mr. J. M. Campbell, in the quiet little village of Pellyton, on the waters of Green River, was the place of a joyous gathering last Saturday evening, August the 4th. The occasion was the celebration of the marriage between Prof. Richard R. Moss and Miss Lynnie Sanders. When the bridal couple appeared on the front veranda a large company of friends had gathered in the yard. The bride was very pretty in a beautiful dress of white. The impressive ritual service of the Methodist Church was said by Rev. A. R. Kasey, of Columbia.

Immediately following the ceremony a sumptuous feast was spread to which more than a hundred guests sat down.

Mrs. Moss is a daughter of Mrs. J. M. Campbell, of Pellyton. She was a student in the Lindsay-Wilson Training School last year, and pursued her studies with serious devotion. She possesses those graces that give to womanhood its charms.

Prof. Moss is at the head of the Normal Department in the Lindsay-Wilson, and during his three years connection with the institution, has made a very enviable reputation as an educator.

After the honeymoon, Prof. and Mrs. Moss will return to Columbia, where they will make their home. Prof. Moss continuing his connection with the school.

Mr. Henry Aaron, who is selling goods at Denmark, Russell County, in partnership with his brothers, Edward and Allen, was in Columbia last Wednesday. It will be remembered that last May, one year ago, these young men were burned out and every dollar they had was swept away. But with the determination to again get on top, they went to Louisville, laid their circumstances before the wholesale merchants. Their frankness pleased the business men of the city and they were furnished all the goods necessary and again opened their store. Honesty is what makes men. They have enjoyed a fine trade, and they have about paid out of debt. Their loss by the fire was $5,000.

Dr. W. R. Grissom, who accompanied Mrs. Charlotte Patterson to Meridian, Texas, returned home last Friday afternoon. He reports that after the first day Mrs. Patterson stood the long trip well, and that he left her in fine spirits. She is very much interested in Adair county, and wanted to be kept posted concerning local affairs, hence she sent a dollar, and ordered the News forwarded to her address. Dr. Grissom visited several cities in Texas, meeting many Kentuckians, finding them generally well and getting along nicely. At Hillsboro he met Tyler Chandler, Scott Walker and others. He failed to see Porter Strange, who was out of town, traveling for the house he represents. He further stated that the crops in Texas are better than for many years.

Miss Margaret Walker, of Nell, gave a delightful social last Saturday evening, in honor of Miss Eva Wilson, of Bowling Green. All the young people of the neighborhood answered to invitations. The following Columbians were present: Mr. John L. Walker and Miss Bess Rowe; Mr. Bruce Montgomery and Miss Kate Watker; Mr. Herschel Baker, this place, and Miss Pearl Hindman, of Gradyville; Mr. John Flowers, Columbia, and Miss Alice Hindman, of Missouri.

Don't squander your money by helping to pay the salary and traveling expenses of sewing machine agents, and then get an inferior machine, but come to us and buy a "Standard" the best sewing machine made for $25 cash. We have other good machines at $12, $15 and $20. RUSSELL & Co. 39-2t

In the parlors of the Hancock Hotel, last Tuesday night at the midnight hour Mr. Eldridge Stotts was married to Miss Amanda M. Campbell. Judge Junius Hancock performed the ceremony. The couple live in the Breeding country, and immediately after the ceremony left for their future home.

FOR SALE:—My farm of 100 acres on Sulphur Creek, 3 miles from Columbia. About 20 acres of first class bottom and 40 acres of upland in cultivation, balance in timber. Good location, plenty of fine water. Building only moderate. Will sell at a bargain if taken early.

Garlin, Ky.

Bring your logs to the Standard Hardwood Lumber Company, and get the cash. 39-tf

As an evidence that Columbia is a fine stock town you have only to read the sales made last Wednesday, published in the "Land, Stock and Crop Column." Men from various portions of the county were here with mules and about $7000 changed hands.

COMING CONFERENCE.

The Church of the United Brethren of Kentucky will hold their annual conference in Columbia this year. The meeting will be in October, and the services and business will be at the Presbyterian Church. It is our understanding that there are between thirty and forty misisters in the Conference, many of them able men. Columbia once a year, has had the pleasure of hearing a Bishop of this denomination, and invariably extraordinary good sermons have been delivered. This town will take pleasure in entertaining the Conference.

Judge Sam Gann, who removed from Russell county to Lincoln county last year, will return to Jamestown this Fall. He has purchased the stock of goods from Mrs. Belle Patterson and the inventory will be taken the first of October. Mr. Gann is an experienced merchant, having spent many years behind the counter. His friends throughout Russell county will be glad to learn that he is going to return to his old home.

We are ready to buy all kinds of merchantable timber in the log on our yard in Columbia. The mill will be cutting in a few days. Standard Hardwood Lumber Co. See W. D. FRAZIER or WALKER BRYANT. 39-tf

Notice.

Four monuments that sold at $75 can now be bought at $60; four that sold for $25 now $20, one that sold at $80 now $65. When these are closed out no more can be had at these prices.

COAKLEY & SIMMS BROS.

Mrs. Polly George, who lived near Denmark, died last week. She was the mother of of Robt. George and was about 75 years old. She was a victim of a cancer.

Eld. Lawrence Williams will assist his father, Eld. Z. T. Williams, in a meeting to begin at Cane Valley on Monday night after the fourth Sunday in this month.

Mr. Tim Bradshaw is the most successful grape cultivator in Columbia. For a bunch of this delicious fruit, grown by him, we desire to extend our thanks.

The three bridges on Butler's branch, (Camp Creek) has been replaced by Josh Butler and a good job, the approaches well filled with rock and gravel.

The Columbia Fair Association put its track in first class condition last week. Up to date the prospects for an interesting fair was never better.

The Record book kept by the late Judge J. W. Atkins is missing. If any person knows where it is, the information is wanted at this office. 38-2
